THE HOPE FACTOR

This book is devoted to people with exploration and mining in their blood, but will also be of great interest for those wanting to learn about the minerals industry and some of its personalities.

Professor Ross R Large
Director ARC Centre
of Excellence in Ore Deposits
University of Tasmania

The general public as well as explorers and students will be keen to read this book.

David Mason, General Manager
Geological Survey of Queensland

This is an important record of activities that contributes to the heritage record of the AusIMM, but will also excite young people looking for a career that offers intellectual challenge, travel and adventure.

Peter McCarthy
Chairman, AusIMM Heritage Committee
AusIMM Past President 2007-08

The book covers a period in Australia's history when the mineral resources industry has achieved unprecedented prominence.
